

Glasgow City Council

Information on council performance comes from statutory performance indicators, the performance management and planning audit, value for money and other reports. All of these must be taken into account in considering how a council is performing. Further details about all of the information below are available in Section 1 of this document.

Indicator number	Indicator definition
13	Pre-school provision - the percentage of children in their pre-school year who received pre-school education
16	Primary schools - the percentage of schools in which the ratio of pupils to available places is between 61% and 100%

Progress towards Best Value: The performance management and planning (PMP) audit

Best Value requires councils to implement effective arrangements for planning and managing their performance. The performance management and planning (PMP) audit assesses the extent to which councils have these arrangements in place. Results from the PMP audit, SPIs, performance audit and other reports should all be considered when assessing council or service performance.

Between 1999 and 2002 the PMP audit was applied to Glasgow City Council's corporate function and to a total of eight Glasgow City Council services (Exhibit 1). The criteria used in the PMP audit are outlined in Section 1, Exhibit 3. Having over 70% of best practice criteria elements in place is recognised as a good achievement. Councils with less than 60% of best practice elements in place generally have room to make substantial improvements.

The corporate audit (2000/01) found that Glasgow City Council had 70% or more of the elements of best practice performance management and planning in place. The service audits found that six of the eight Glasgow City Council services had 70% or more of best practice elements in place. One service, financial services, audited in 1999/00 (PMP1) had less than 60% of best practice elements in place.

Glasgow City Council planned to make improvements in all the PMP audited services and to its corporate function. The 2001/02 PMP audit looked at the extent of progress made and found:

Services audited in 1999/00

- Cultural & leisure services – some progress but slippage
- Direct & care services – some progress but slippage
- Financial services – some progress but slippage

Services audited in 2000/01

- Education – improvements had been or were on target to be introduced
- Land services – improvements had been or were on target to be introduced
- Environmental protection services – some progress but slippage

Corporate function audited in 2000/01

- some progress but slippage

Exhibit 1: PMP audit results 1999-2002

The proportion of best practice elements that audited services across Scotland had in place has increased over the three years of the PMP audit. In 1999/00 the average (mean) proportion was 60%; in 2000/01 the average proportion was 69%; and in 2001/02 the average proportion was 72%. Six of the eight audited services had higher than Scottish average scores.

Notes

1. An underlined measurement indicates unreliable data.
2. This measure is presented in family groups in Section 3.
3. Measure 31: Housing Response Repairs: this measure is taken from a 'transitional' indicator, which requires care in interpretation. Each council's performance is assessed against its own locally-set targets. We have measured the proportion of repairs due to be completed within 24 hours, that were completed in time. This allows broad comparison among councils.
4. Unreliable data has not been ranked.
